Always keen for something original in the way of entertainment, society awaits with great interest the Russian Festival which has been arranged by Miss Barbara Rutherford to be given in the Cascade ballroom of the Biltmore on Tuesday night for the benefit of the Russian war sufferers. Miss Rutherford has herself devised the whole scheme of the entertainment, and in many ways it promises to be one of the most novel and interesting performances of the winter.

The programme will include tableaux illustrating certain phases of Russian life, its mysticism, art, music, costumes, literature, drama and dancing. Accompanying several of the tableaux there will be music by the choir of the Russian Cathedral, and for the songs and folk dances the Russian Balalaika orchestra will play. Prof. Chaff, formerly of the Metropolitan Opera Company, is rehearsing a group for some of the folk dances. Miss Lydia Lupkova will dance some of her newest dances and Miss Lydia will be heard in Russian songs for the first time in this country.

At the conclusion of the programme there will be general dancing. Miss Marjorie Curtis, Miss Beatrice Cluffin, Miss Camilla Morgan, Miss Claire Bird, Miss Audrey Osborn, Miss Edith Morrison and Miss Edith Morgan are among those who will sell programmes and act as ushers.

Cochran, Mrs. Henry Clegg, Mrs. Amory Carhart, Mrs. Otto H. Kahn, Mrs. James A. Burden, Mrs. Pembroke Jones and Mrs. Robert Bacon. Vanderbilt, Mrs. Pembroke Jones and Curtis Guild, formerly American Ambassador to Russia.

A generous offer has been made by Louis Sherry to help the Committee of Mercy's international campaign to relieve women and children made destitute by the war now raging in Europe. His entire establishment will be thrown open on Wednesday, and whatever money is taken in that day in any department will be turned over to the trustees of the fund. Edith Root and August Belmont. Already many luncheon, dinner and supper parties have been arranged. Orchestras conducted by Frantzen, Conrad and Europe will play for dancing afternoon and evening in the three ballrooms, and admission to these rooms will be $2.50, while a like sum will be charged for a special dinner, and there will also be a la carte service for those who desire it.
